Reward still posted in arson deaths

A former Morgan County resident whose mother and brother are believed to have been murdered in their home at Cannel City last year told The Courier last week that a $5,000 reward remains posted by the family for information about the incident that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible.

Mrs. Betty Cambra of Orange Park, Fla., said the State Police had released no information concerning the deaths of her mother, Berneice Elam, 81, and her disabled brother, Nathan " Mickey" Elam, 54, whose charred remains were found in ashes of their burned home on April 15, 2008.

The investigation appears to have gotten nowhere, Cambra said, adding that she wanted to be sure the public is aware that the reward is still being offered. "I do not intend to stop until this crime is solved," she said.

State Police said following their initial investigation that circumstances surrounding the deaths and evidence found at the fire scene, along with autopsy results, indicated that the deaths may have been murders.

At the time, a State Police spokesman noted that a large sum of money thought by family members to have been in the house remained unaccounted for.

No suspects have been named and Cambra said the family has been unable to obtain any further information from investigators.

The Morgan County Project Development Board last week gave tentative approval to an architect's plans for the county's new $18 million Justice Center. The 39,319 sq. ft. structure will occupy the entire southern half of the present courthouse block along Court and Broadway streets and incorporate a design (above) that complements the present 102-year-old courthouse at left, which will be utilized as offices for county officials. Construction is scheduled to begin next spring.

Justice Center plans OK'd

Board is aiming for construction start this spring

The local Project Development Board charged with overseeing construction of the new Morgan County Justice Center met last week and tentatively approved an architect's design for the $18 million facility.

The plans will incorporate the entire south side of the present courthouse block — which now includes the former McKenzie Shopwise lot — and are for a 39,315-sq. ft. structure facing on Court Street. The facility, to be built on two levels, will house three courtrooms, a large office for the circuit court clerk, offices for other court officials, segregated holding rooms for prisoners, segregated witness waiting rooms, a number of attorney-client conference rooms, and jury rooms.

Security will be of primary importance and entry and egress will be through the main entrance on Court Street only. Prisoners will be ushered in and out of court through a special sallyport at the rear of the building from a parking lot located off Broadway Street.

Of particularly special significance are the courthouse columns that will represent the five magisterial districts of Morgan County, as noted by Judge Executive Tim Conley, a Project Development Board member, at last week's Chamber of Commerce meeting.

"This courthouse will belong to the entire county," Conley said. "That is what the board wanted to signify with these columns. We wanted to create something warm and inviting that did not overshadow the current courthouse, because that building is an image of what Morgan County is."

Conley also told chamber members that the current courthouse will eventually be used to house county officials, including the jailer, and possibly the sheriff and county attorney.

The Project Development Board will meet with officials at the Administrative Office of the Courts in Frankfort on Aug. 31 and construction is scheduled to

Congressman Rogers delivers $600,000 for city's sewer project

By Miranda Cantrell James

U.S. Rep. Hal Rogers (R) visited West Liberty's City Hall on Thursday, Aug. 13, to present a symbolic check for $600,000 to local officials for the final phase of the city's sewer project before an audience of approximately 100 people.

Rep. Rogers was welcomed to Morgan County by Judge Executive Tim Conley, who lauded the longtime congressman's efforts to appropriate federal funding for local projects.

"We have the greatest congressman in the United States of America," Conley said. "Since I've been in office, Rep. Rogers has secured $12 million for county water projects, and he has also helped with city projects. He always takes time to talk personally with local officials about their constituents' needs."

Conley concluded his remarks with a proclamation of "Congressman Hal Rogers Day" in Morgan County.

Rep. Rogers, who was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1980, remarked drolly about calamitous town hall meetings throughout the country regarding health care reform before addressing the crowd about national concerns and local projects.

U.S. Rep. Hal Rogers presents a symbolic check for $600,000 in PRIDE funding to the City of West Liberty for the final phase of the city's sewer project. Its completion was a long-term goal of the late Mayor Bob Nickell, who died unexpectedly in January. Pictured above (left to right) are Nickell's widow, Alane, Rep. Hal Rogers, Mayor Jim Rupe and Judge Executive Tim Conley.

"I was told that I was doing a town meeting today," Rep. Rogers said. "I asked, 'Where's my helmet?' When I heard I was coming to Morgan County, I said, 'That's O.K. – I know we'll be

Computers at schools vital to hunt for cure

State Rep. John Will Stacy (D-West Liberty) and State Sen. Robert Stivers (R-Manchester) recently announced that another potential drug discovered by Brown Cancer Center researchers, currently using computers in the Morgan County School District, are one step closer to potentially helping people.

It is all part of a unique Kentucky-based program funded through coal severance dollars that brings new computers to local schools and also uses those same computers to provide vast computing resources to Kentucky universities to fight deadly diseases. Rep. Stacy and Sen. Stivers were instrumental in pushing the legislation for Kentucky schools.

Since the program was introduced almost four years ago, over 10,000 computers have been placed in Kentucky schools and five potential drugs have moved into development.

"This is just one of the great programs that benefit from our coal severance dollars," Sen. Stivers said.

"More importantly, this program enables groups to share resources so that the state is able to extend computer capabilities further than if each tried to purchase and use the equipment on their own," Rep. Stacy said. "For every dollar we invest, local students are getting the latest education technology, university researchers get the tools they need to make life saving discovers, and we create new products that fuel Kentucky-based companies."

Public Image of Coal

Pick and Shovel

Destruction of the Land

What the main stream media and the anti-coal politicians want you to see and believe.

The Truth About Kentucky Coal

Kentucky Production

- 126 million tons in 2006.
- 77% mined in Eastern Kentucky (54%underground, 46%surface).
- 23% mined in Western Kentucky (88% underground, 12% surface).
- Production peaked in 1990 at 179.4 million.
- Kentucky ranks third nationally behind Wyoming (446 million) and West Virginia (152 million).

Financial Impacts

Public image: "Mr. Peabody's coal train is hauling it away."

- Coal paid $230.6 million in severance taxes in 2006 in addition to the normal business taxes paid by all Kentucky companies.
- Kentucky exports 79.5% of its coal, bringing over $4.3 billion into Kentucky. Around 85 cents on each dollar stays here —wages, benefits, operating expenses, royalties, and taxes.

Economic Value of East Kentucky Surface mining

- 6,055 surface miners mining 45.5 million tons
- $354,629,000 in direct wages
- 23,000 extra jobs
- $1.9 billion in gross sales (79.5% exported out of Kentucky)
- $1.5 billion back to east Kentucky (85 cents on the dollar stays and circulates in east KY)
- $87 million in severance taxes ($43 million back to 24 coal counties)
- Increased property values for reclaimed coal mine lands

Users of Kentucky Coal

- 89% to electric power plants; 8% to industrial users; 2% exported.
- Coal provides 92% of Kentucky's electricity.
- Kentuckians enjoy cheap electricity— 5.43 cents/Kwh., the 4th lowest in the United States.

Hello from Judge Tim Conley. I want to get right to the point with this article; our way of life is under attack by the main stream media and anti-coal politicians. Over the next four weeks, I am going to bring you true facts about coal and the coal industry. Folks, this cap and trade tax is a sneaky way that you, the Kentucky citizens, will have to pay for the life style of bigger states. Coal will be taxed so high that it will result in fewer jobs, less production and higher energy costs. I know when your electric bill starts going higher you will want to blame the power company. The ones you need to blame are negative media coverage aimed at coal and the politicians that do not understand that coal is a high tech industry that keeps our energy costs down. I will continue these articles over the next four weeks, and remember, COAL is a strength, not a weakness.

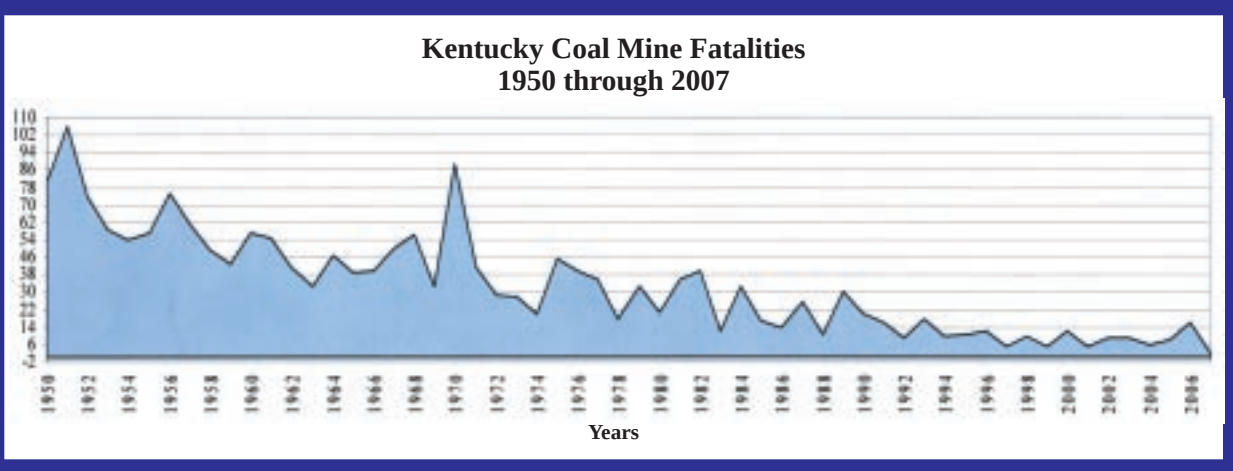

Where does our country get its electricity?

• Coal	49.0%
• Natural gas	20.0%
• Nuclear	19.4%
• Hydropower	7.1%
• Renewables (wind, solar, biomass and geothermal	2.4%
• Oil	1.6%

Coal provides 92% of Kentucky's electricity.

Catastrophic Injuries From Truck-Auto Crash at Paintsville

Mary Ward, 22 years old at the time, was the oly occupant of this car when it was struck by a large truck on U.S. 23 near Paintsville in August 2008. Mary survived the accident but sustained serious injuries. Her lawsuit against the Georgia trucking company and driver was settled last week for $2.5 million.

PAINTSVILLE – August 10 started out as another great summer day for Mary A. Ward of Harold, a day that would see Mary – 22 years old at the time – register for nursing classes at Big Sandy Community and Technical College so she could become a nurse like her mother, Janice Everything went as planned at first. Mary drove her Cougar coupe to Paintsville and by 4:30 p.m. she had completed her enrollment, gotten her class schedule, and started home, traveling on Ky. 321 to the intersection with U.S. 23 at Turner Branch, a place where a tragic accident would spare her young life but would leave her a mere shadow of her former effervescent self.

At approximately 5:00 p.m., Mary's car was struck on U.S. 23 by a tractor-trailer owned by a South Carolina company and operated by George Hand of Lithonia, Georgia. Mary was airlifted to Saint Mary's Hospital at Huntington where she fought for her life and where a team of doctors and nurses fought to keep her alive.

After eleven weeks of intensive hospital care, followed by many more weeks of convalescent attention, Mary was released home. Unfortunately, the crash had been so violent that Mary requires constant attention, is totally disabled and is house-confined. Home care for Mary has been rendered by her mother, Janice Ward, and by her grandmother, Barbara Kidd, and her grandfather, Fred Kidd, until his recent death.

Following the accident, Janice Ward unsuccessfully sought legal assistance. "I knew we needed help," she said. "I visited a prominent law firm in Pikeville, but was turned down. They could not help me, they said. I visited another prominent law firm in Lexington. Same thing. So, I gave up, thinking they knew what they were talking about. Then, one day my bother, Jerry (Kidd), said he had told Loyce Kirk about the situation and told me that Loyce wanted me to see her husband, John Kirk, to see if he could help me. Only two weeks were left to do something before the two years was up. I met with Mr. Kirk, who read the letters I had from the two previous lawyers. He told me that they were probably correct, but that he would see if he could help me. He filed the case for me and things started happening."

Janice Ward said. "I believe it was fate that Jerry told Loyce about what happened."

"Mary was hit by a huge truck on US 23," John C. Kirk said. "Was the truck traveling at the speed limit or was it going fast like they often do? The truck was traveling north coming down a hill toward a flashing caution light at Turner Branch, a very dangerous intersection. We filed it and went to work."

Part of "going to work" included Kirk's publication of a Message to Witnesses, requesting that eye witnesses come forward. "That cracked the case," Kirk said. "Katrina Mohl and John Harmon saw what happened and became Mary's voice. They saw the truck going down hill at, they both estimated, 80 miles per hour. After that, we discovered that the truck driver had a number of speeding citations, including one after he hit Mary, and that he was finally fired by his company for getting speeding citations," Kirk added.

Last month a settlement mediation was held and Mary's case was settled for $2.5 million.

"As far as the legal system is concerned," Kirk said, "justice was done, but nothing in this world could ever start to make up for what happened to this young woman who was in the beginning of what should have been a long and good normal life. I'm happy that she continues to improve. Thank God for her supportive family who have rendered constant care for her. We feel privileged to have helped them."

Kentucky Mesonet expands to Morgan and Johnson

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. – The Kentucky Mesonet is expanding its weather and climate monitoring network to Johnson and Morgan counties.

Mesonet stations were scheduled to be installed last week in conjunction with Paintsville Lake State Park in Johnson County and with the Eastern Kentucky Correctional Complex at West Liberty in Morgan County.

"We are extremely pleased to install stations in these two counties in eastern Kentucky as part of the Kentucky Mesonet," said Dr. Stuart Foster, director of the Mesonet and the Kentucky Climate Center at Western Kentucky University. "These sites will provide valuable data to assist National Weather Service meteorologists in producing forecasts and severe weather warnings, and will also provide benefits to a wide range of interests in the local area."

More than 30 Mesonet sites are operational statewide collecting real-time weather and climate data on temperature, precipitation, humidity, solar radiation, wind speed and direction. Data is packaged into observations and transmitted to the Kentucky Climate Center at WKU every five minutes, 24 hours per day, throughout the year.

The data is available online at www.kymesonet.org; the website includes a "Live Graphs" feature that allows users to visualize weather/climate data collected in a 24-hour period.

The Mesonet project's goal is to develop a statewide automated environmental monitoring network of approximately 100 stations that will collect data and support a variety of needs across Kentucky in agriculture, education, emergency management, energy, engineering and construction, recreation, transportation, water supply management and weather forecasting.

The Mesonet has partnered with universities, school districts, businesses, farmers and others for site locations. The National Weather Service and media outlets are utilizing the Mesonet data for weather forecasts and reports.

Stations are located in Adair, Allen, Barren, Breathitt, Bullitt, Caldwell, Calloway, Carroll, Casey, Christian, Crittenden, Cumberland, Fayette, Franklin, Grayson, Hopkins, Jackson, Johnson, Knox, Lincoln, Logan, Madison, Marshall, McLean, Mercer, Morgan, Ohio, Owen, Rowan, Taylor, Union and Warren counties. Additional site installations are scheduled for Breckinridge, Lewis, Metcalfe, Owsley and Pike. Site negotiations are under way in Campbell, Clark, Hardin, Henderson, Marion, Mason, McCreary, Muhlenberg, Nelson, Nicholas and Pendleton with active site searches in 21 other counties.

State Climatologist Stuart Foster is director of the Kentucky Mesonet and the Kentucky Climate Center. Dr. Rezaul Mahmood, associate professor of Geography and Geology, is associate director of the Kentucky Mesonet and the Kentucky Climate Center.

Initial funding for the project was secured by U.S. Sen. Mitch McConnell through a $2.9 million federal appropriation for the Kentucky Climate Center, part of WKU's Applied Research and Technology Program in the Ogden College of Science and Engineering.

Household Hints

• Full strength Dawn dishwashing liquid can be used for removing a ring around the collar of shirts and for removing food and grease stains from clothing.

• Clear a clogged drain with one fourth cup of baking soda and one-half cup of vinegar. Let the mixture stay in the drain for about five minutes and then clear out the mixture by rinsing with hot water.

• To whiten white cotton socks, place them in a pan of water with a slice of lemon and boil for about 15 minutes.

• Remove grass stains from sneakers by spreading molasses over the stains, let stand overnight, and wash off in the morning. The sulphur in the molasses works to remove the stains.

• Clean a linoleum floor coverng by mopping with a moisture of one cup of vinegar and a gallon of hot water.

Emily McKenzie named Junior Miss at annual program Saturday

"Junior Miss Salutes the Red, White and Blue" was full of energy and excitement on Saturday, Aug. 15, at MSU at West Liberty.

A host of parents, grandparents and friends exhibited enthusiasm and support for the participants.

The program began with a pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The Morgan County Woman's Club is a proud sponsor of this event each year, and this year was no exception to what a great program it has become.

The young ladies participating were seniors Melissa Lykins, Andrea Nickell, Chelsea Steele, Ali Carty, Lauren Burton and Emily McKenzie.

I was asked the question as to why we call them Junior Miss when they are actually seniors. The participants are ladies who have just completed their junior year and are going to be graduating from Morgan County High School in the spring of 2010.

Congratulations to all participants who worked together as a team to make this evening most enjoyable and successful. All the ladies are role models that we can be proud of.

Choreographers were Ms. Bridgett Fannin, Amber Pelfrey and Lara Turner. (Great job!) The sound system was operated by H.B. Elam, and the videographer was Ryan Gevedon. The emcee for the evening was 2007 Junior Miss Ashley Buchanan.

Awards and presentations are as follows:

• The 2010 Morgan County Junior Miss is Emily Kathryn McKenzie.

• First runner-up is Alexandra Carty.

• Second runner-up is Lauren Chasity Burton.

• Talent award was awarded to Ali Carty.

• Self expression award was awarded to Ali Carty.

• Fitness award was awarded to Emily McKenzie.

• Judges' interview was awarded to Emily McKenzie.

• Scholastic award was awarded to Emily McKenzie.

• The Spirit Award was voted on by all the contestants and was awarded to Melissa Lykins.

Colleges offering scholarships were Campbellsville University, Spencerian College, Lindsey Wilson College, University of the Cumberlands, Georgetown College, Union College and Morehead State University for a total of $174,000.

The Woman's Club would like to express its sincere appreciation to the following businesses and individuals for their support:

Commercial Bank, City of West Liberty, Peyton's Pharmacy, Frederick & May Lumber Co., Morgan County Kiwanis Club, Mountain Telephone, Morgan County Bar Association, Dr. Edward Ward, Morgan County ARH, Bank of the Mountains, Grassy Auto Parts, Dr. Jeff Bailey, Morgan County Lions Club, Morgan County Propane, Elam Utility Company;

Studio Barn, Morgan County Rotary Club, West Liberty Physical Therapy, Curves of West Liberty, Dr. Robert Henderson and Dr. Leigh Ann Gunnell, Courier Publishing Company, Potter Funeral Home, Kentucky Eye Institute, First National Bank, Herald, Stewart & Halsey Funeral Home and Morgan County High School Juniorettes.

Also, the Woman's Club sponsored silver trays to the Junior Miss, first runner-up, second runner-up, talent, self-expression, fitness and interview categories. The scholastic silver tray was given by Junior Miss Chairman Wilma Ison.

The Junior Miss medallion was given by Mary Alice Oldfield. Junior Miss T-shirts were sponsored by Mane Event and LeAnn McCowan. Little Sis T-shirts were sponsored by Kim Ison Gevedon, attorney at law.

Several forget-me-nots were present this year and were recognized.

Program photos can be purchased at Studio Barn Photography at 743-3800. Program videos can be purchased by contacting Ryan Gevedon at 743-7728.

The Woman's Club would like to thank each and every person who had a role in making the 2010 Junior Miss program a success.

Wilma Ison
Chairman

tain and get our pads on them."

While Morgan certainly has respect for the Vikings, the fe1eling is also mutual. Brown knows this is not the same Cougar team that Rowan took to the woodshed last season—and he's taking nothing for granted.

"I watched Morgan scrimmage Fairview this past weekend and was impressed with what I saw," said the Rowan County coach. "The double wing offense is tough to defend. I'll be honest, I've never coached or played against the double wing so it will be a new experience for me. It's like watching a rugby scrum. You've got to find the football and get as many three and outs as possible."

Besides the new offensive scheme, Brown also sees a new attitude at Morgan County.

"The players on the sidelines and their coaching staff were fired up and the team played with a lot of energy," Brown said. "I definitely think coach Turner has the team headed in the right direction."

Rep. Rogers...

all right there.' It is a pleasure to be here today."

Rep. Rogers declared his opposition to Pres. Barack Obama's universal health care reform proposal, which was met with enthusiastic applause.

"We are wrestling with a proposal the President has put forth on health care reform that I cannot support," Rep. Rogers said. "We need some reform of the health care system – there's no doubt. However, we have still the best system in the world. People come here from all over the world for treatment. There is a lot that is wrong with health care, but there is also a lot that is right with health care.

"I don't want to see Medicare or Medicaid interfered with. We also need to bring down the cost of health care. A simple way to do that is to enact tort reform, to eliminate junk lawsuits that drive up insurance costs and cause doctors to practice defensive medicine. This is not proposed in the bill. Nevertheless, we will continue to work to make some kind of reform happen."

The representative also commented on his efforts to bolster Eastern Kentucky's economy with his PRIDE (Personal Responsibility in a Desirable Environment) program.

"I'm here to thank you for the work you are doing on the PRIDE cleanup campaign," Rep. Rogers said. "Your local PRIDE coordinator, Linda Rose, has been an asset to PRIDE and to Morgan County. I want to thank for overseeing the cleanup projects and leading the way for the environmental programs in our schools.

"It has been a record-breaking year for the PRIDE program. Approximately 25,000 people in 29 counties took part in the spring cleanup. I see a big difference – because citizens are taking more pride in their homes, churches, communities and businesses. I am really proud of what you have done here. Your town is sparkling, because you have done such a good job of making things better."

A significant portion of PRIDE funding is allocated for the installation of sanitary sewer service, which has eliminated approximately 38,000 straight pipe waste systems throughout Eastern Kentucky.

The congressman noted that a long-term goal of the late Mayor Bob Nickell, who died unexpectedly in January, was to implement a city sewer system covering all of West Liberty.

"Mayor Nickell championed access to sanitary sewer for every resident in the City of West Liberty," Rep. Rogers said. "He believed, as PRIDE does, that everyone, rich or poor, deserves to live without the environmental compilations and health risks of failing septic systems and straight pipes. It was only fitting that we keep his legacy alive today through honoring the efforts he made to ensure the completion of this project."

To commemorate the fulfillment of Mayor Nickell's vision, Rep. Rogers presented an American flag that was flown over the nation's capital in the late mayor's honor to his widow, Alaine Nickell.

The $600,000 in funding that Rep. Rogers delivered to city officials will extend sewer service to approximately 200 new households. Upon completion, the project will rid the city of 75 failing septic systems, and provide city sewer service to 100 percent of West Liberty.

Other guests included PRIDE Director Karen Engle, and Lt. Col. Steven Bales, of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The event concluded with a special thanks to Rep. Rogers from current Mayor Jim Rupe, and a special reception in honor of Mayor Nickell.

RESPONSE FROM A VIETNAM VET

There has been somewhat of controversy going on on the editorial page the past few weeks. I didn't start it, but I would like to put my two cents in.

Hard feelings associated with Joe Nickell and Morgan County's historic jail (that is now a monument to our military history) stems from Nickell's failure to serve our country when called during the Vietnam War. That was his choice to make, but with our choices comes responsibility. Now he needs to accept that responsibility and refrain from questioning the "flag waving" patriotism of his critics. His accusation of a letter writer " hiding behind a pseudonym" is laughable locally, because if he had lived here, he would have known that everyone in the county knows the person who wrote the letter by his pen name as well as they know his given name.

I am a veteran of the Vietnam War. I, along with every veteran in this county, have earned the right to wave our flags and criticize Mr. Nickell's choice. He, on the other hand, has no right to question our patriotism by calling us "look at me flag wavers." I remember the day I left to serve my country. I didn't want to go but I did. I still remember the look on my mother's face. It was a look of love and worry, a look of sadness. But I also saw a look of pride in her son. I saw that same look when I returned home. And on top of that, when I looked in the mirror, I looked at myself with pride.

Mr. Nickell said "real patriotism" calls for standing in opposition of something you're against. I'll agree with that. Stand for what you believe. Don't move to another country and then move back when the heat is off. True patriotism and courage is standing and facing the music for your actions.

I worked with conscientious objectors in Vietnam. They objected, but served their country anyway. I respected them. Even though years have passed, one shouldn't expect the men and women who stood in his place to forget his choice and embrace his arguments.

Having a memorial to Morgan County's servicemen and women in no way takes away from our rich history as Mr. Nickell suggests. Calling our pride in that part of our history "self-serving" is insulting.

Every year on Veterans Day, there is a man who calls me and says, "Thank you." The feeling that gives me means more to me than I can say. My final victory is that those who refused to serve will never know what that feeling is like.

working together, the program succeeds on a statewide network. Morehead State University established its 21st Century Education Enterprise to support education needs of participating schools. Dataseam, a Kentucky-based not-for-profit company created the program, manages the computers, and works with the local schools and universities.

Tighter pseudoephedrine control suggested to stem meth lab spread

By Dori Hjalmarson
Reprinted From
The Lexington Herald-Leader

LONDON – One Kentucky drug enforcement official said the state should further restrict the availability of the cold medicine pseudoephedrine in order to curb a new spike in methamphetamine activity.

Stopping the networks of people who buy pseudoephedrine and resell it to meth manufacturers will require making the cold medicine a Schedule IV controlled substance, available only by prescription, or banning it altogether, said Dave Keller, who leads the Kentucky portion of the Appalachia High-Intensity Drug Trafficking Area.

"In my opinion, that's the next step we're going to have to do," Keller said.

Prescription laws have worked in states facing similar trends, such as Oregon and Oklahoma, he said.

Meth is made by using a variety of other chemicals to distill pseudoephedrine is a decongestant used in some common cold medicines, including some formulations of Sudafed.

Other meth ingredients, such as battery acid and anhydrous ammonia, are readily available at pharmacies and feed stores, too, but they have common substitutes in meth recipes. Pseudoephedrine is the only must-have ingredient, so it's the target of the most restrictions.

After a peak 600 meth labs were busted in Kentucky in 2004, the state moved pseudoephedrine behind pharmacy counters and required identification and a signature for purchase. That produced a dramatic decrease in the number of meth labs statewide, federal officials said at a recent news conference in London, but since then, meth manufacturers have developed networks of middle-men whose only role in making meth might be buying the cold medicine.

This year, 210 labs had been busted by May, and the state is on track to reach or surpass the 2004 peak, said U.S. District Attorney James Zerhusen.

There is no statewide effort yet to further curb pseudoephedrine sales, said Van Ingram, executive director for the Kentucky Office of Drug Control Policy, in a phone interview from Frankfort.

"I kind of feel like if Kentucky does, and the seven other surrounding states don't, it won't be effective," Ingram said.

Indiana's lag behind Kentucky in tracking pseudoephedrine sales helped make the Louisville a "smurfer's paradise," Keller said. "Smurfing" is jargon for buying pseudoephedrine and reselling it for meth manufacture.

Not only are more meth labs being found, but also larger cohorts of people have a part in meth making. More people are being charged with conspiracy to make meth, since the smurfers can be charged with felonies as severe as charges for the manufacturer and seller, said Kyle Edelen, public information officer for the U.S. Attorney's office.

A recent case that resulted in a life sentence for a meth manufacturer came about partly because his network of pseudoephedrine buyers were able to testify against him, Zerhusen said.

"We want people to act on their suspicions," and report possible meth activity, Edelen said.

Former Little League baseball and football coach passes Jan. 14

The pen of time that records all things and the voice that speaks and all must obey, has written the name of Harold Lee Lansing, and called him from his earthly labors. He was born April 20, 1937, making his journey in this world, a span of 71 years, 8 months, and 25 days.

Lee was the son of the late Harold Given Lansing and Lissie Estep Lansing.

One sister and brother-in-law, Eleanor and Sebert Green and one grandson, Shane Given Lansing, one brother and sister-in-law, Dorsey and Phyllis Bradley, preceded him in death.

Lee was a very busy young man. He belonged to the Civil Air Patrol, in downtown Portsmouth for several years. He sang with a choral group from Central Christian Church, belonged to Boy Scouts, was a newspaper carrier for The Portsmouth Daily Times, worked at Selby Shoe Manufacturing Company, then worked at Shaffer's Super Market part time. He also attended The Portsmouth Enterprise Baptist Church.

Soon after graduating from Portsmouth High School, class of 1955, he went to work for Empire Detroit Steel and retired when the mill closed with 27 years' service.

Lee's first marriage was to Vesta Jean Lewis and to this union four sons and two daughter were born.

His love for sports is legendary. He played baseball, coached little league football and baseball. He was a scout leader for several years.

He loved the great outdoor life of camping, hunting, playing golf, shuffleboard, bocce ball, and fishing, especially when he could go to Florida for deep sea fishing with his son, Chip.

Lee later married Dolores Bradley, from Hazel Green, Kentucky and they moved to Florida. He worked for a plumbing and contracting firm in Pinellas Park, Florida.

To travel with Lee was to see the world at its best. What really set him apart was his unbridled enthusiasm for each of life's experiences. He found cause for celebration daily, and it was impossible not to share his joy.

His golden heart, laughing spirit and smiling face made an impression on all who crossed his path. His friend, John Lee said, "When you were a friend of Lee Lansing, it lasted a lifetime". John and Lee were "best friends" in school and have remained "best friends". He loved his family. He was intelligent, talented, and generous and possessed a sharp wit and sense of humor. He was an advisor, good provider and family comedian.

Lee was a Christian. He was saved and baptized at Bethany Baptist Church in 1992. He was a 48 year member of Nauvoo Lodge #769. He was a man of deep faith and high moral character. Those who knew him will carry in their hearts the rich, unconditional love and light that he showed them, as it was Lee's special gift to everyone. He was a faithful man and compassionate husband, a loving father and a good neighbor. He was loved by his family and all who were fortunate enough to know him.

While his lifetime achievements were great, it was his self-effacing humor and modest manner that will live on in the memory of those he left behind. He will be sadly missed by all who held him dear.

Lee is survived by his wife, Dolores, four sons, Harold Lee, Jr. (Patricia), Odessa, Florida, Charles Anthony (Mary), Sciotoville, Ohio, Michael Larry (Bessie), Odessa, Florida, Jeffery Dean (Dodie), Portsmouth, Ohio, one step-son, Donald Ray (Linda), Phoenix, Arizona, two daughters, Julie Lisa, Oldsmar, Florida, Jeania Lee (Dan), Pikeville, Tennessee, two step-daughters, Sharon Elyse, Phoenix, Arizona, Peggy Susan, West Liberty, Kentucky, one brother-in-law, Danny (Linda) Bradley, Hazel Green, Kentucky, 27 grandchildren, 12 great grandchildren, three nieces, Tonja (Tim) Aldridge, Sciotoville, Ohio, Evelyn (Chris) Adyelott, Boca Raton, Florida, Shelly (Mike) Bressler, Hazel Green, Kentucky, three nephews, Larry Green, Portsmouth, Ohio, Marty (Uneda) Bradley, Hazel Green, Kentucky, Chris (Cindy) Bradley, Sacramento, California, and a host of friends and extended family.

And now as we stand in a world of wonder and gaze into the mysteries of Eternity, with our faith centered in Almighty God, knowing Lee has completed his journey into that land, where once born, no traveler has ever returned. There he has joined that Heavenly Host in that immortal world where goodbyes and farewells will be a stranger and death can never come.

BY AND BY

By and by the dreams come true though now things do seem hard for you. Amid the triumphs and defeats, you may be sure the circle meets by and by each crooked path is merely just an aftermath, and worries that are ours today, will be as dust to brush away. By and by impatient heart. The blessed dawn when shadows part, and there will come the golden years too rich and beautiful for tears. We won't be bothered anymore. By all that weighed us down before, for truly, just as Jesus stats, all things belong to Him that waits.

Nettie Goodpaster honored at July 9th blood drawing

Nettie Goodpaster, a member of West Liberty Homemakers, was presented a plaque in honor of her dedicated service at the local blood drawings. "Nettie is always the first one here and the last one to leave. She helps serve refreshments as well as donating blood", said Edwin Benton, chairman of the local blood drawings. When she is not busy with refreshments, Nettie can be found crocheting various different lapel pins or bookmarks to share with Central Kentucky Blood Center staff members, a tradition that her mother, the late Lettie Cantrell, began years ago. Shown above with Mrs. Goodpaster is Richard Davis, at left, from Central Kentucky Blood Center, and Morgan County Judge Executive Tim Conley, at right.

Producers required to file application for LIP program

Signup for the Farm Service Agency's Livestock Indemnity Program, or LIP, began on July 13 and will continue through September 13, 2009.

LIP is a new disaster program for livestock producers and contract growers. LIP provides assistance to producers for livestock deaths that result from disaster. Using funds from the Agricultural Disaster Relief Trust Fund established under section 902 of the Trade Act of 1974, the program is administered by the USDA Farm Service Agency.

LIP compensates livestock owners and contract growers for death losses in excess of normal mortality due to adverse weather, including losses due to hurricanes, floods, blizzards, disease, wildfires, extreme heat and extreme cold. Eligible losses must have occurred on or after Jan. 1, 2008, and before Oct. 1, 2011.

Livestock owners and contract growers who suffer 2009 livestock losses after July 13, 2009, to be eligible for LIP must file:

•A notice of loss within 30 calendar days of when the loss of livestock is apparent, and

•An application for payment no later than January 30, 2010.

Contact your local FSA Service Center for additional information on filing a notice of loss.

Caney Valley

By Tracey Barker Hatton

Aug. 17 – Hello again from Caney Valley. You can already feel the change in the air, and the humidity from July to August.

This week, I want to recognize these happy birthdays:

• Robin Phipps turned 50 on Aug. 14. Her family had a special surprise birthday part at her sister's house on Aug. 14. Robin said she is glad to still have birthdays.

• Belated happy birthdays to Teresa Easterling, Ray Gevedon, Shelly Roseberry Blanton and Alyssa Blanton. Eli Allen turned four years old on Aug. 9. Happy birthday to all of you, and God bless you on your special day!

Speaking of birthdays, the Hatton clan all met at Eunice and Elmer Hatton's on Aug. 12, for Eunice's 80th birthday. Present for the birthday celebration were Eric and Brenda Hatton, Ralph and Becky Hatton and Patchy, Boone and Tracey Hatton, Bridgett Hatton, Brandon Craft and Jaylynne Craft (this is Eunice and Elmer's first great-granddaughter).

Earlier in the day, Elmer's nephew and his wife, Charles Ray and Betty Feltner, stopped in to wish Eunice a happy birthday. After a great supper, we all enjoyed ice cream cake.

Eunice enjoyed being with her family, especially little Jaylynne, who will turn one year old on Sept. 3.

Mom and Cecil went to a Lexington Legends ballgame last Thursday night. They enjoyed eating supper at the ballpark and watching the game, even though the Legends lost. The Legends field is a fun, family-friendly environment.

Everyone, when you are out, be careful. There have been sightings of bobcats, coyotes and other wild animals.

The Dee and Bertha Spencer reunion was held at the home place at Caney on Aug. 16. Ralph and Becky Hatton were such gracious hosts. Thank you! Many family members were present.

Dee and Bertha had 12 children together. One of the 12 died soon after birth; his name was Johnnie. Four of the five living children attended the reunion, including Eunice Spencer Hatton, Elbert Spencer, Stanley Spencer and Hubert Spencer.

Becky Spencer Lykins Hammonds is a resident at West Liberty Nursing & Rehabilitation Center, and was unable to attend this year.

Sons, daughters, grandchildren, cousins and friends came out to enjoy a day of great food, fun and memories. Reunions are wonderful for keeping in touch with family and remembering our roots.

Rachel Hatton came up and spent the weekend with her dad and me. She had a great time. Bridgett, Brandon and Jaylynne also came up on Sunday for the reunion, and then came out to our house to visit for a while. We enjoy having all of our children come and see us and our grandchild.

We have a new birth in our community. Mr. Colton Wayne Gevedon is the son of Pete Gevedon and Pam Knox. He was welcomed home by his big brother, Joseph Knox, and big sister, Alyssa Knox. He is the grandson of Buddy Gevedon, and he was boron July 8, 2009, at St. Claire Regional Medical Center.

I would like to thank all the ones who have donated money for the upkeep of Morris Cemetery. There will be a listing of the names at a later date.

This Sunday, Aug. 23, we will be having church at Brushy Fork Baptist Church at 10 a.m. If you do not have a church to attend and have been thinking about coming to church, we would be glad to you. Any church around the community would be glad to have you worship with them.

Prayer Requests & Praises

• Montana Cheek said her dad got to come home from the hospital the other day, and she was very glad to have him home. Remember Don, Georgia and Montana Cheek.

• Remember Anna Ruth Harper and her family, Adam Montgomery and his family, Trish Adams, Robbie Helton's family, Roy Potter, Troy Flannery Jr., Debbie Patrick, Lacy May, Beth and Jeff Byrd, Jackie Conley and her family, S.E. Craft family, Arthur Dean Bach family, Becky Flannery Allen, Lanny Prater, Kristin Kearns (medical testing at Samaritan Hospital) and Jaylynne Craft.

May God bless you as you pray, and God bless the ones you are praying for. When we ask, ask it to be God's will and not ours.

In James 4:14-15, "Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor that appeareth for a little time and then vanisheth away. For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this or that." (KJV)

May God bless you and keep

Morgan students take part in Gov. Scholar's program

Governor Steve Beshear recently congratulated 1,032 outstanding Kentucky high school juniors who attended this year's Governor's Scholars program for five weeks during June and July.

"The Governor's Scholars program is an outstanding educational experience for Kentucky and one I'm proud to say both of my sons had the opportunity to enjoy," Gov. Beshear said. "My congratulations to those young Kentuckians who had the great opportunity to share in this exciting program."

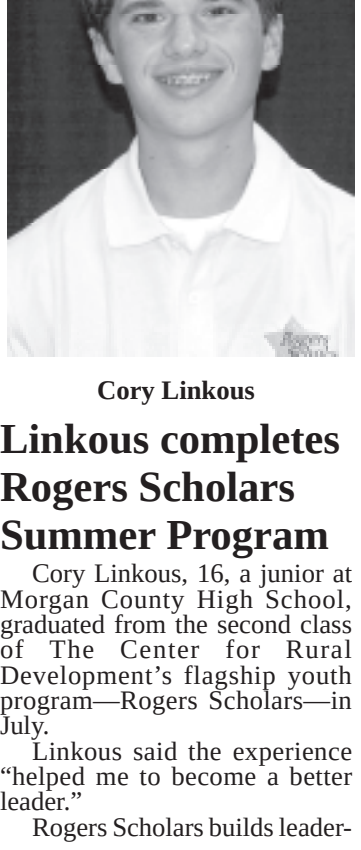

Among those participating in the program were Morgan County High School students William Michael Holbrook II, William Parker May II, Emily Kathryn McKenzie, Tanner Gregory McKenzie, Cory Allen Murphy and Emily Renee Nickell.

By participating, students have the unique opportunity to exchange ideas and discover different points of view while interacting with other students and learning new disciplines.

A statewide selection committee chose the participants for the nationally recognized program from nominations submitted from each Kentucky school district. Selection criteria included academic records and test scores, teacher recommendations, extracurricular activities and essays. The program is free to those who attend.

Scholars spend five weeks on a college campus during the program, which this year was held at Morehead State University in Morehead from June 20 to July 24; at Bellarmine University in Louisville from June 21 to July 25; and at Centre College in Danville from June 28 to Aug. 1.

Scholars balance a busy academic schedule in the sciences, mathematics, humanities and the arts with a variety of co-curricular activities and a rich residential life. They participated in community improvement projects, seminars and other activities often initiated by the students themselves.

Cory Linkous

Linkous completes Rogers Scholars Summer Program

Cory Linkous, 16, a junior at Morgan County High School, graduated from the second class of The Center for Rural Development's flagship youth program—Rogers Scholars—in July.

Linkous said the experience "helped me to become a better leader."

Rogers Scholars builds leadership and entrepreneurship skills, and instills in the region's next generation of leaders a desire to make their home communities in Southern and Eastern Kentucky a better place to live.

Cory is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Linkous of Malone.

Transy student travels in Europe during May term

A Morgan County High School graduate and Transylvania University student recently enjoyed unique out-of-the-classroom learning experiences during Transyl- vania's May term. Joshua Motley traveled through Europe performing with the Transylvania Choir.

May term affords Transylvania students and professors the opportunity to explore a subject in depth by spending four-weeks focused on a single course. Often, these courses incorporate off-campus activities, including travel to destinations in the U.S. and abroad. This year's May term travel courses had students studying nutrition in France and Spain, theater and music in New York City, forensic accounting and fraud examination in the Cayman Islands, politics and culture in Ireland, writing in Ireland and the ancient polis in Greece.

With the Transylvania Choir, Motley embarked on an international tour that included stops in Venice, Italy; Dubrovnik, Croatia; and Ljublijana, Slovenia. Under the direction of Transylvania music professor Gary Anderson, the 28-member choir gave four concerts and also visited historic areas, art galleries and museums.

Motley, an anthropology major, is a rising senior at the university. He is the son of Gregory and Ellen Motley of Ezel.

Transylvania, founded in 1780, is the nation's sixteenth oldest institution of higher learning and is consistently ranked in national publications as one of the top liberal arts colleges in the country.

Guilty pleas result in fines, penalties after Nada Tunnel fire

Ten individuals recently pled guilty in federal court four causing a forest wildfire in the Red River Gorge nearly one year ago. The fire burned a total of 70 acres in the Daniel Boone National Forest in Powell County, Ky. near the Nada Tunnel. At the time of the fire, a state-wide burning ban was in place, as well as a burning ban on national forest lands.

"From the investigation, it was determined that one of the subjects threw a firecracker over the edge of a cliff, which resulted in the forest fire," said patrol Captain Kimberly Kipp with Forest Service Law Enforcement and Investigations."In addition to throwing firecrackers, the group also had a campfire that was in violation of the fire ban."

Nine of the individuals pleading guilty were ordered to pay a combined total of $6,550 in fines for having a campfire during a fire ban. One individual was ordered to pay $27,500 in restitution, in addition to being banned from the Daniel Boone National Forest for two years.

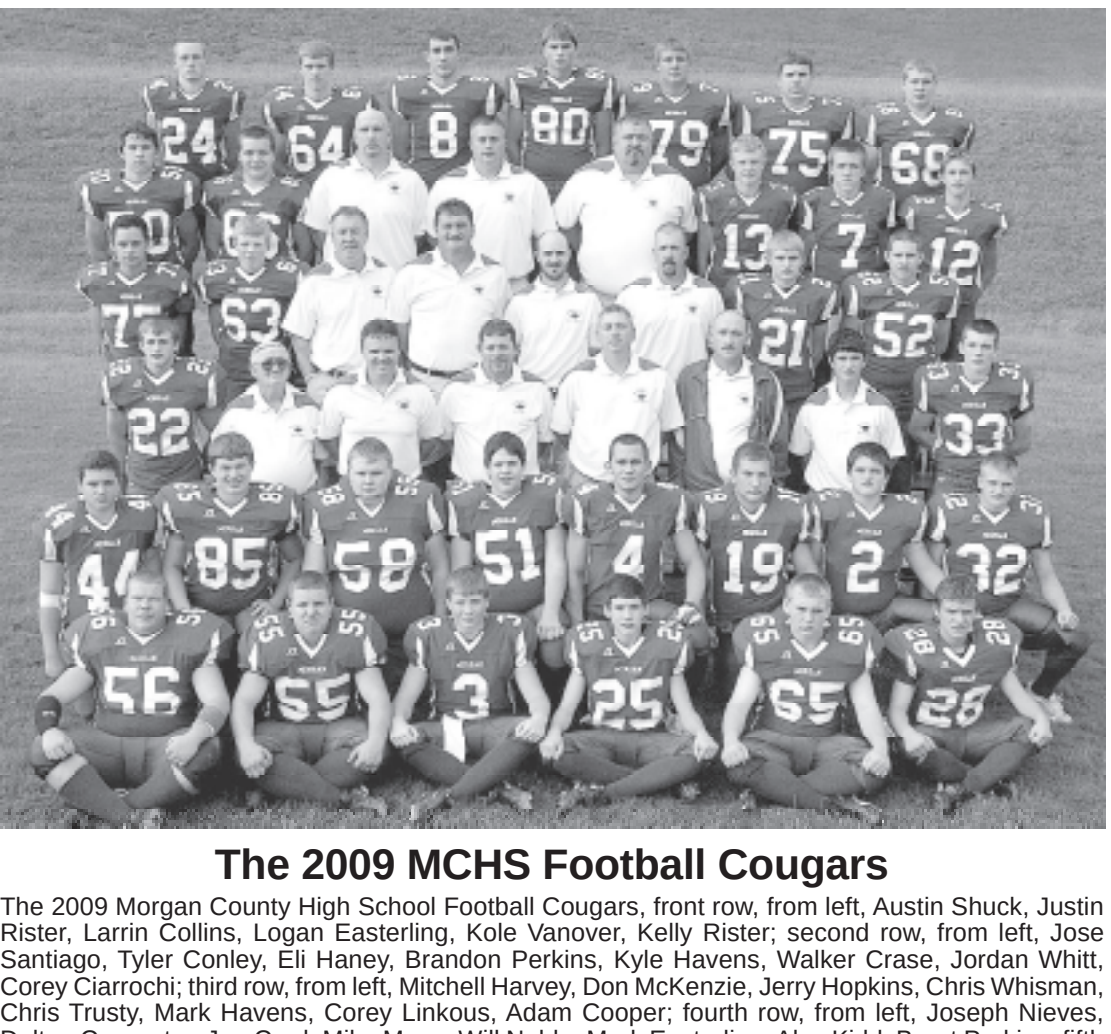

"It's important that everyone realizes the dangers of having a fire in a wooded area when the weather conditions and ground fuels are extremely dry," said Kipp. "Not only did this fire consume and destroy 70 acres of woodland in the Red River Gorge, it put other forest visitors in danger. We will continue to actively investigate and seek prosecution of all human-caused wildfires," stated Kipp.

MORGAN COUNTY FOOTBALL

Turner believes winning football is just around the corner

By David Patrick

Morgan County football is a work in progress. After winning just one game over the last two years, that is expected.

But just because something is a work in progress does NOT mean things aren't (pardon the double negative) headed in the right direction. Almost assuredly, the program's worst days are behind it. The days of being embarrassed by mediocre opponents are over. The days of not being able to score a touchdown until the final minute of the game—on the opponent's second and third string, no less—are long gone as well. The Friday nights of 40- and 50-point losses are about to be replaced by hard work, determination and a good ole fashioned dose of Cougar Pride.

"The great thing about this season is that we're going to improve more than any other team," said Cougar head coach Brian Turner. "This program has struggled so much over the past two years that the room for improvement is through the roof. If this team can get a win and get the monkey off its back, I really believe it could snowball into something special. It's just a matter of working and getting better."

The Cougars took their first step toward respectability in last year weekend's EKC Grid-O-Rama game with Fairview. Despite a 36-6 loss, Morgan County controlled the tempo and time of possession. The Cougars put together one scoring drive and had the ball inside the opponent's 20 yard line on two other occasions. In fact, Morgan only trailed 13-6 with less than a minute remaining in the first half before allowing a kick to be returned inside the 15 yard line. Fairview scored to go up 21-6 and grabbed the momentum going into halftime. The Cougars could never recover en route to the 30-point scrimmage loss.

"It was one of those instances where your kids think they can take a play off and everything will be okay," Turner said. "It's hard to get kids to understand that just one play can turn a game. Take that play away and we're down only seven points with possession of the football to open the second half. We had the momentum and then had it taken away in an instant. Hopefully, it''s a lesson learned."

Despite the team's mental lapse, the scrimmage was a success. Morgan got a big lift from four freshmen starters—Larrin Collins, Tyler Conley, Walker Crase and Joe Holbrook.

Collins got the start at quarterback for an injured Jared Curd. It was just a few months ago that the freshman led the middle school Cougars to a school-record 16 wins.

"I told our coaches we could either go with someone who'd never played quarterback or go with a kd like Larrin who knows the position and the offense like the back of his hand," Turner said of his talented freshman. "He's been running the 'Double-Wing' for three years. He's intelligent and understands how the system works. Until Jared gets back, he's our guy. I'm proud of his effort."

Holbrook also impressed his coach from his corner position on defense with a pair of clean, hard tackles.

"Joe was very quick to the ball and made his presence known," said Turner.

But Holbrook was one of the few bright spots on defense. Fairview had more than one three to four play drive resulting in a score—obviously not what Turner had in mind.

"I'm not going to lie; our defense was horrible at times. But they were big and physical, which made it tough on our line. Again, it's a matter of working hard and getting better. That's what we'll have to do."

Lexington's Eastern National 12-year-old All-Star baseball team recently won the District 3 hampionship. Team members include, Curtis Franklin, kneeling right, son of former Morgan Countians, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Franklin. Curtis is a nephew of Langley, Lanny, and Stanley Franklin of West Liberty.

Cougar gridders aiming for upset in Cave Run Classic

By David Patrick

For coach Brian Turner, tomorrow brings the long-awaited season opener. Long time rivals Morgan County and Rowan County meet in Morehead for the ninth annual Cave Run Classic.

Turner's first and only matchup against Rowan was a success—-beating the Vikings 36-0 in his head coaching debut back in 2003. This came after Rowan had scored back-to-back convincing wins over the Cougars the two previous seasons.

Rowan is sure to be the favorite on Friday. The Vikings have outscored Morgan by 100 points in the team's two previous meetings. But rest assured, Turner and his players aren't ready to concede anything. It's a brand new season with a game that will be won on the field—not on paper. And the Cougars are ready.

"We're anxious to get on the field Friday night and give it our best shot," Turner said this week. "We know Rowan has a ton of speed. They run the option and have players all over the field. We've got to improve defensively and control the clock. We cannot get in a scoring contest w itwan. We have to play smart."A big concern for the Cougars will be junior running back Darrell Cross, who led Rowan with nearly 1,200 yards rushing and scored nine touchdowns in 2008.

"Darrell is one of the best football players in northeastern Kentucky," said Viking head coach ShaDon Brown. "He'll be all over the field—-at running back, wide receiver or wherever we can use him. We hope he's tough for Morgan to tackle."

"Whether it's Cross or another player, you've got to put eight people in the box and come hard to stop the run," said Turner in reference to Rowan's offense. "They're not a real physical team, but Rowan has speed and is very elusive. We've got to con-
